

The State of our Materials – Curt McDonald (moderator)

A diverse group of seasoned panellists from industry, commerce, academe and modern studio practice will explore the current state of our materials and engage the audience in a vigorous discussion about these materials and what to expect in the future.

The objective is to provide information, insight and perspective on the materials we use in practice.

Dimensions of this discussion include:

Expectation vs Reality

Education vs Practice

Functional vs Decorative (or Sculptural)

Processed vs Unprocessed,

Studio vs Industry, etc.

Come along and get the inside scoop on the materials which are the life blood of your studio!"
